LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Faces of Coarc

To the editor:

I moved here three years ago from Los Angeles. I was a filmmaker for my whole career. When I came to Columbia County, my friend Nancy Kohler suggested that I talk to staff of Coarc's Fusion Day Hab Program (it was called the Blended Program at that time). They introduced me to Coarc's programs and I decided to become substitute staff (a big thank you to Karen Wolff for hiring me and pushing me along!). I subbed for the program for six months and then Chris Nardone, who works in Community Employment, talked me into becoming permanent staff.

I look at this as my second career. My skills as a filmmaker have come into play here at Coarc. I started the drama group with Fusion and we've conducted five plays so far (most recently, "The Trial of Alice in Wonderland"). Currently, I'm working on a documentary with the individuals who attend the Fusion program, as well as Danielle Palleschi and the "IAM: International Foundation."

Being a DSP (Direct Support Professional) is an amazing job! It is my give-back job. The individuals I work with are interesting, funny, and fun and we do lots fun things; we learn things! We have been to the Capital to fight for funding for the wage increase; we have met amazing people; and we have gone to concerts at the Egg, among so many other things. On our outings, I get to see all sorts of places I have never seen before. My life now, living in Kinderhook, is peaceful. I live in such a beautiful place and love my drive to work every day. There is no traffic! I don't miss L.A. at all.
